

Lease Granted, Judgment Rendered, All Satisfied

In a decision handed down in Superior Court in Martinez yesterday, Steve Barbikas, Richmond restaurant owner, is granted a lease on his present location, 1016 Macdonald avenue until 1930 and at the same time judgment is awarded the plaintiff for eight months back rentals.

Suit for back rent on the store was brought against Barbikas by Mrs. A. Becker of Los Angeles owner of the property.

According to Barbikas an original lease made in 1920 and extended for four years was assigned to him when he became proprietor of the restaurant. At the expiration of the lease, he sought an extension. He declared that Mrs. Becker sent him a written document setting forth the rental terms and this document was recorded by him in Martinez. He abided by the terms of this lease paying the increase in rental, according to the schedule of terms until April, 1927, when he attempted to sub-let the location. He says, Lack of bona fide lease prevented the transaction. He then withheld payment of the rentals seeking a definite lease from the owner, he alleges.

The court held that since he had recorded the document and lived up to its terms he was entitled to a lease for the extent called for in the document, which is until 1930. The court awarded Mrs. Becker seven months' back rentals.

Barbikas was represented by Attorney James E. Hoy and Mrs. Becker was represented by Attorney Thomas M. Carlson.

North Pole's Favorite Son Loaded With Gifts For Richmond Kiddies

MAYOR CHANDLER, MERCHANTS WILL WELCOME SANTA ON VISIT TO
CITY OF RICHMOND

Santa Claus has discarded the conventional reindeer and sleigh bells in favor of the more modern transportation provided by an airplane. Santa's itinerary has been well mapped out this year by expert travel agencies and the consensus of opinion has been that Richmond should be favored as one of his first stopping points. In fact, Santa is losing no time in delighting the hearts of local kiddies with a bountiful amount of presents and will glide his plane to a rest at the First and Ohio landing field this afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

BIG WELCOME PLANNED
Santa is availing himself of the expert services of L. Van Bryce, one of the best pilots employed by the Travelair company, and will be met by a delegation of merchants, under whose auspices the visit was arranged, and by a group of the leading citizens of the city.

Mayor Mattie Chandler will give old Santa the keys to the city, Richard Johnson, president of the Christmas activities committee, and their associates, will be on hand to show the North Pole's Favorite Son that Richmond knows how to line the line of entertainment.

DINNER ON TAP

"Santa will first be entertained at dinner in the Hotel Carquinez, where Manager Fred Risley declared although blubber and frozen fish are not on the menu, that he believes even Santa will carry away the memory of the dinner with him.

PARADE TO PARK

A parade will formally introduce Santa Claus to the Richmond public at 7 o'clock. Headed by Mayor Chandler, merchants, and businessmen, it will follow a route out to Point Richmond, then circling back to Memorial park. Here a musical program will be put on in front of the huge Christmas tree, decked with electric lights, by the Richmond Union High School band, which will also play during the parade.

BIG CHRISTMAS TREE

With the lighting of the tree a leading Richmond citizen will introduce Santa Claus—though Santa is said to be an open-hearted old man and the conventions of acquaintance do not weigh upon him. He wants to meet every one, he has declared, and most of all he wants to see as many Richmond kiddies in Memorial park as there are in Richmond homes.

PRESENT FOR ALL

"I'll have a present for all of them," Santa says. "Anything I like, it's children, and they all seem to like me. Fact is, I think we could have a pretty good time, almost every day in the year, but it takes a lot of time to make toys, and one visit a year is the most I can make."

Local War Veterans At San Jose Meet

Won't This Be "Swill"? City To Get "Offal" Business Now

Garbage Business To Be Taken Over By City;
Big Revenue Seen

By the terms of an ordinance that was given first reading at the meeting of the council last evening the City of Richmond is to enter into the "wet garbage or swill business." Under its provisions the wet garbage will become the property of the city and it will be sold to a contractor, and in this manner a revenue to the city will be secured that will increase as the city grows.

LARGE REVENUE

Just how much revenue will be produced by this new measure is not known but City Manager McVittie says it will run into a large sum yearly.

In the past the scavengers have been operating under a general ordinance, which did not define "wet garbage." The council in the ordinance presented last evening amends ordinance 498, and defines what is "wet garbage" and how it shall be disposed.

ORDINANCE AMENDED

Section 6 of the ordinance is amended to read as follows:

"Section 6. At such times as there is in force a contract entered into by the City of Richmond, it shall be unlawful for any person other than the contractor, or a person or persons in the employment of such contractor, to collect any garbage within the City of Richmond, provided however, that the word, 'garbage' as used herein shall not include what is commonly termed 'swill' from restaurants, stores in which fruits and vegetables are sold, cafes, hospitals, hotels and other public eating houses."

SWILL DEFINED

"Swill for the purpose of this ordinance shall be held to include and mean kitchen and table refuse, offal and also every accumulation of animal, vegetable and other matter that attends the preparation, consumption, decay or dealing in, or storage of any fish, fowls, birds, fruits or vegetables. "Provided further, at such time as there is in force a contract entered into by the City of Richmond with any person, company or corporation for the collection of swill, it shall be unlawful for any person other than the persons in the employ of the contractor

Property Owners On Ohio Avenue Want Pavement

Property owners on Ohio avenue east of Pullman avenue last evening petitioned the council for the improvement of that thoroughfare. They asked that a pavement of asphalt concrete be laid.

The matter was referred to the street committee for one week.

HUGE CONCERN TO MAKE CITY HEADQUARTERS

Five Acre Site Bought
In North Richmond
Ideal Location

The Kaiser Construction company, one of the biggest concerns of its kind in the United States, and with New York as its headquarters, will make Richmond its base of operations for the northern part of California.

FIVE ACRE SITE

It has purchased five acres of land from Supervisor Zeb Knott, and in a short time will start the construction of a large plant. The new site is just south of where the Santa Fe crosses the Southern Pacific railroad, and has a frontage of 1,000 feet on the latter railroad extending from Coalanga street on the south to Costa street on the north.

IDEAL LOCATION

The property is ideal for industrial purposes, and is so located there will be ample room for spur track facilities.

The RECORD-HERALD has known for some time of the negotiations that have been in progress, but was not at liberty to give the public the information until a definite agreement had been reached.

ANK STREET CLOSING

The concluding steps in the deal were taken last evening when C. D. Wood of Oakland, representing the company appeared before the council and asked for the closing of certain dead end streets in the tract.

At the present time the Kaiser Construction company has several large state highway contracts, and other work in different parts of the state.

This new industry will add to Richmond's payroll, and also add to its assessable property.

Resolution Adopted In Street Closing

At the meeting of the council last evening a resolution of intention to close certain portions of Essex street, in the northern part of the city, was adopted. The property on both sides of this street is owned by the Pacific Sanitary Manufacturing company.

Action On Richmond-Marin County Span Urged

SWEETS CAUSE OF FREE FOR ALL INN FIGHT

A few sticks of candy that disappeared at Emma's Chicken Coop near the county line in El Cerrito Sunday morning, caused a free-for-all brawl in the inn, and resulted in four men being placed under arrest.

The men are: A. Muenk, proprietor of the restaurant; William Webster, 1633 Bonita Street, Berkeley; James Bishop, pool hall proprietor and Howard Harvey, of 824 Jackson Street, Albany.

According to Chief of Police Forest Wright, the quarrel is said to have started when Muenk accused Webster of taking the candy.

Harvey, said with Muenk and Bishop, joined forces with Webster.

Muenk and Bishop are at liberty on $50 bail while the others two were lodged in jail in default of bail. They will appear before Police Judge W. A. Hinds today.

Excavations for storage tanks at the Point Portero site of the Petroleum Securities company were started yesterday by the International Oil Company. According to present progress on the work, completion on the tanks will be made in 10 days and the excavation for additional tanks will be started.

The excavations will be made to the depth of 10 feet and will be done by the use of the method formerly used in tank construction. Reinforced concrete rings resting on a bed of gravel will insure a strong foundation.

Work on the plant will be started as it is believed that the construction will be completed within 30 days at which time the first tanker of the company will enter the harbor.

SUPERVISORS HOLD HEARING DECEMBER 12

MARTINEZ, Nov. 28.—That the special meeting of the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors on December 12 at which further hearing on the application of the rival companies for a franchise to build a highway toll bridge across San Pablo Bay from Richmond to Marin county be characterized by definite action looking to the granting of a franchise to one of the other of the companies, is the plea put forth today by R. B. McNear, president of "Marvellous Marin," the county-wide promotion body of the trans-bay county.

Directors of "Marvellous Marin" are anxious for concrete action in the highway bridge matter and McNear is authority for the statement that the Contra Costa Supervisors will be petitioned to halt further delay in the launching of the project and grant the franchise sought to one of the applicants or end the matter so far as they are concerned by denial of the application.

In official circles, however, it is believed that the rival applicants for the franchise, the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge Inc. and the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Co. will pool their interests in the bridge project and that the fight for the franchise will thereby be dispensed with.

TWO FIRMS INVOLVED
Richmond-San Rafael Bridge Inc., of which Roy O. Long, Berkeley, realtor, is the president and in which project a number of the engineers who built the Anacapa and Carquinez bridges figure prominently, was the original applicant for the franchise. The Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Co., through its president, Charles Van Damm, at first opposed the franchise grant and then countered with a franchise application of its own proposing to build a bridge on the approximate present route of the ferry line which of necessity would be "killed" by the building of a bridge.

MANY POST PERMITS
In the consideration of the rival applications postponement of a postponement was necessitated first by the absence in the east of Prof. Charles Derleth, chief engineer for the original applicant, and later by absence from the state of Supervisor Zeb Knott in whose district either or both of the bridges would have their eastern terminus.

Local Man In Shooting Row Is Freed On Bail Of $500

MARTINEZ, Nov. 28.—Freed on $500 bail, Alvin A. Dewey, 27, arrested after he had shot Mert Kerns, 29, a Richmond carpenter, whose Dewey's wife, Mrs. Emma Dewey, had charged was annoying her, is today awaiting his preliminary examination on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Authorities indicated today the hearing would probably be held this week.

Kerns, shot twice in the right thigh with a .22 calibre rifle, is still at the county hospital here. He is being a charge of battery filed by Mrs. Dewey.

Dewey was freed from the county jail a few hours after his arrest on bail that was secured by his wife.

Kerns was shot when he visited the Dewey home Friday and in a statement here charged that he "walked into a trap."

Kerns denied that he had annoyed Mrs. Dewey and said he went to the home to visit Dewey's cousin (Gerville, only to be shot by Dewey drawing a rifle on him and shouting that he was going to kill him.

Dewey claims that he remained at home from his work at his wife's request and only held the gun on Kerns as a means of deterring him until Constable M. G. Molloy, could arrive and arrest him on the battery charge that had been filed by Mrs. Dewey.

When Kerns took flight Dewey fired at him.

Deputy District Attorney Hiram Jacobs is considering a request made by Dewey for a warrant for Kerns' arrest on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

Court Of Awards On Next Friday

Boy Scout court of awards will be held Friday night in Scout hall, Eighth street and Ohio avenue. Among those to receive badges will be Joe Palmera and Roy Rasmussen of Troop No. 4, who last night passed their tests for second class and first class respectively.

Fire building tests will be held by the troop December 19, with the winners being awarded fire building honors. Fire will be made by friction or by the flint and steel method.

Troop No. 4, is planning a jamboree for December 19, which is the fourth birthday of the troop. It will be mothers' and fathers' night with the new troop committee being installed. This troop is sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, Charles Russell and Robert Grace will demonstrate the Indian sign language and the Beaver Patrol will present a pantomime.

Bridge is anxious to have the project launched for it will be several years before the great $12,000,000 highway span could be ready for traffic. The Contra Costa Supervisors, being the governing body of the "left bank" county have the exclusive right to grant the franchise and the Marin county civic leaders are insistent that definite action be taken.

into, with the city some time ago, the Key System will go before the railroad commission asked for the withdrawal of its petitions for the abandonment of the Richmond lines and the city of Richmond through its city attorney, J. J. Goldsmith, vice president of the company in charge of the public relations department, has taken the council for the Key System decided to work in harmony with Richmond in every way. So far as the line of San Pablo avenue was concerned, the company would not take any judgment on the city in the matter, but agreed to work with the city officials and them in every way possible in getting an independent bus line established.

Goldsmith further added the company would set a line that was agreeable to the city for the discontinuance of the bus line.

City Attorney T. M. Carlson, then added a word in reply to what had been said by Goldsmith, saying that in all of the deal, he had had with A. J. Lundberg, the president, Paul St. Sure, the attorney and Paul Goldsmith, the vice-president, that he had found them men of their word in every detail. "As a matter of fact," said Carlson "under recent rule of the railroad commission, the Key System could have backed out of the agreement they entered into with the city, but no attempt was made to do so. I want to say that it has been a pleasure for me as city attorney to work with men of this calibre."

"I am pleased to see that the Key System will still be with us," said Mayor Mattie Chandler "and I know, Mr. Goldsmith that the company will prosper as Richmond prospers."

BARTHELMESS IN "DROP KICK" AT CALIFORNIA

Richard Barthelmess fans have a cinematic treat in store for them at the California theatre, where his newest feature, "The Drop Kick," opened last evening. For the first time this beloved star has assumed the role of an American college boy, and the story has been especially designed to give him ample opportunities for his rare histrionic talents. There are moments when the thrills are plenty and the suspense is gripping. "The Drop Kick" is entirely pleasing and one of the best things Barthelmess has done in recent years, something more to the desires of his great following.

Barthelmess is seen to excellent advantage and looks as youthful as he did six years ago in "Tollable David." He seems to have found the fountain of youth and his acting art grows better picture by picture. If such a thing were possible, Ray Rockett, who produced "The Drop Kick" for First National, has surrounded Barthelmess with an excellent supporting cast; Barbara Kent appears opposite the star and gives the little girl who seems to fit into the jazzy scheme of college life. The coach's wife is played by Dorothy Revier, a vampire of the modern sort who does her work in divers and subtle ways. Miss Revier is beautiful to look at and carries her role well. Others enacting principal roles to good advantage are Eugene Strong, Hilda Hopper, Albert Vaughn, Millard Webb directed "The Drop Kick."

Other features include "Much Mystery," a Mermaid comedy; "Topics of the Day"; "Aesop's Fables"; and the many added gala features of high school night to night, when the joys of youth will run riot.

BILLIE DOVE IN FASHION PLAY AT RICHMOND

Although Billie Dove plays the starring role in the picture, it is Lilyan Tashman who appears in brilliant attire in "The Stolen Bride," the First National production now showing here at the Richmond theatre.

Miss Tashman, the "vamp" of the picture, wears gorgeous wedding raiment in the novel series of events which makes up the climax of the unusual story.

Miss Dove, however, playing the role of a Hungarian countess, boasts a wardrobe for the picture which would stir the envy of any real title-holder.

"The Stolen Bride" was directed by Alexander Korda and produced by Carey Wilson from his own original screen story.

Lloyd Hughes plays the lead opposite Miss Dove with Armand Kaliz, Cleve Moore, Frank Beall and others in the large supporting cast.

Other film features on the same program include "Smith's Landlord," a Mack Sennett comedy; "Topics of the Day" and "Aesop's Fables."

THE NEW FORD CAR

An announcement of unusual importance to every automobile owner

by
HENRY FORD

NINETEEN years ago we made and sold the first Model T Ford car. In announcing it to the public we said:

"We will build a motor car for the great multitude. It will be large enough for the family, but small enough for the individual to run and care for. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one."

"If I were starting in business today, or asked to restate my policy, I would not change one sentence or one word of that original announcement. In plain, simple language it gives the reason for the very existence of the Ford Motor Company and explains its growth.

IN THE last nineteen years we have made 15,000,000 Ford cars and added to the world nearly 300,000,000 mobile horse-power. Yet I do not consider the machines which bear my name simply as machines. I take them as concrete evidence of the working out of a theory of business which I hope is something more than a theory of business—a theory that looks toward making this world a better place in which to live.

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. There was no conscious public need of motor cars when we first conceived it. There were few good roads and only the adventurous few could be induced to buy an automobile.

"The Ford car blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads. It broke down the barriers of time and distance and helped to place education within the reach of all. It gave people more leisure. It helped people everywhere to do more and better work in less time and enjoy doing it. It did a great deal, I am sure, to promote the growth and progress of this country.

"We are still proud of the record of the Model T Ford car. If we were not, we would not have continued to manufacture it so long. But 1927 is not 1908. It is not 1915. It is not even 1926.

We have built a new car to meet modern conditions

"We realize that conditions in this country have so greatly changed in the last few years that further refinement in motor car construction is desirable. So we have built a new car. To put it simply—we have built a new and different Ford to meet new and different conditions.

"We believe the new Ford car, which will be officially announced on Friday of this week, is as great an improvement in motor car building as the Model T Ford was in 1908.

Smart new low lines and beautiful colors

"The new Ford is more than a car for the requirements of today. It goes farther than that. It anticipates the needs of 1928, of 1929, of 1930.

"The new Ford car is radically different from Model T. Yet the basic Ford principles of economy of production and quality of product have been retained. There is nothing quite like the new Ford anywhere in quality and price.

"The new Ford has exceptional beauty of line and color because beauty of line and color has come to be considered, and I think rightly, a necessity in a motor car today. Equally important is the mechanical beauty of the engine. Let us not forget this mechanical beauty when we consider the beauty of the new Ford.

"The new Ford has unusual speed for a low-price car because present-day conditions require unusual speed.

"The world moves more quickly than it used to. There are only so many hours in the day and there is much to be done.

"Fifty and sixty miles an hour are desired today where thirty and forty would have satisfied in 1908. So we are giving you this new speed.

Quiet and smooth-running at all speeds

"The new Ford will ride comfortably at fifty and sixty miles an hour. It has actually done sixty-five miles an hour in road tests.

"Since modern conditions demand more speed, they also demand better brakes to balance this speed. So we are giving you four-wheel brakes in the new Ford.

"The new Ford will be quiet and smooth-running at all speeds and you will find it even easier to handle in traffic than the old Model T Ford.

"The new Ford has durability because durability is the very heart of motor car value. The Ford car has always been known as a car that will take you there and bring you back. The new Ford will not only do that, but it will do it in good style. You will be proud of the new Ford.

THIS new Ford car has not been planned and made in a day. Our engineers began work on it several years ago and it has been in my mind much longer than that. We make automobiles quickly when we get in production. But we take a long time planning them. Nothing can hurry us in that. We spent twelve years in perfecting our former Model T Ford car before we offered it to the public. It is not conceivable that we should have put this new Ford car on the market until we were sure that it was mechanically correct in every detail.

"Every part of it has been tested and re-tested. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it represents the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the making of 15,000,000 automobiles.

The new Ford will sell at a low price

"The price of the new Ford is low in accordance with the established Ford policy. I hold that it is better to sell a large number of cars at a reasonably small margin of profit than to sell a few cars at a large margin of profit.

"We never forget that people who buy Ford cars are the people who helped to make this business big. It has always been our policy to share our profits with our customers. In one year our profits were so much larger than we expected that we voluntarily returned $50 to each purchaser of a car. We could never have done that if this business had been conducted for the sole benefit of stockholders rather than to render service to the public.

"No other automobile can duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do.

"We make our own steel—we make our own glass—we mine our own coal—we make virtually every part used in the Ford car. But we do not charge a profit on any of these items or from these operations. We would not be playing fair with the public if we did so. Our only business is the automobile business. Our only profit is on the automobile we sell.

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs.

"We did not set out to make a new car to sell at such-and-such a figure. We decided on the kind of car we wanted to make and then found ways to produce it at a low price.

"The new Ford car, as I have said, will be officially announced on Friday of this week. In appearance, in performance, in comfort, in safety, in all that goes to make a good car, it will bear out everything I have said here. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

ROBINSON AND PIN RESULTS IN ROACH TANGLE S. O. LEAGUE AT EL CERRITO

If Chick Roach, of Vallejo, and Tiger Bob Robinson of Denver were fighting for a world's title they could not be attracting more attention than their ten round main event is this Friday night at El Cerrito. A good fast colored man with the class that Robinson has, matched with such a slugger as Roach, who almost sent Gene Cline home on a stretcher, is sure sign of a sell out.

Robinson claims he has never yet fought here with his hands at their best, but with the home rest he has had they will be at their best Friday night for Chick Roach. Roach who stopped Gene Cline at the last show also comes forth with an alibi and says he was far from his best shape at the last show, but for Robinson will be even better and more savage.

Rossi's preliminary bouts, five all told look like fights of the first water. Dolph Thomas' crack lightweight, who stopped Mickey Brown on his last appearance here, will take on Buddy Ryan the fighting lightweight from Pinole. Ryan is just the kind that should give Stetson a hard battle, but from the looks of Stetson on his showing with Mickey Brown it would not be surprising if Ryan also took a sleeping powder.

The Shook factory and the Barrel House came out on top last night in the Standard Oil Bowling League games at the Seventh Street alleys. The Mystery team bowled a rock bottom score but won just the same, since the Shipping Office forfeited.

High series for the night was taken by Gregg of the Shook Factory who bowled 613. He also took high game with a score of 277, for his second game. Last night's results:

Scott K. O's. Munn In Tenth Round

NEW YORK Nov. 28.—An English fighter tonight had the strange experience of knocking out somebody.

Phil Scott of England accustomed to assume frequent horizontal positions knocked out Monte Munn of Nebraska in the last round of their ten round bout at the St. Nicholas arena here tonight.

The Briton had the better of almost every round and pounded his opponent almost at will about the face and body.

POPULARITY IN THE JURY BOX

If Col. Charles Lindbergh were tried before a jury on charges of breaking a contract with a manager, what verdict do you think would be rendered by twelve good men and true? Regardless of the legal merits of the case, Lindy would get a solid vote.

I fear that some of my readers will raise indignantly when I compare Jack Dempsey with Lindy but it is the only comparison available, as Dempsey's popularity can be paralleled to the popularity of no other figure on the public stage at the present moment.

At the Equity Hall Dempsey stole the show from Ruth Elder. Every time he appears he sets in motion a hysterical outburst without precedent. Dan Healy tells me that of all the public personages who have appeared at the Folies this season, Dempsey received an ovation four times in excess of that given any one else.

In any analysis of the Kearns-Dempsey-Rickard fuss, which has been shifted out of the sovereign state of New Jersey, consider the above fact.

Kearns and his attorneys charge that the jury was prejudiced in Dempsey's favor. They hint that that prejudice was criminally induced. That's why they non-suited the case in New Jersey and will move it over to the December calendar in New York or Pennsylvania.

Regardless of WHERE the case is tried, whether in New York, California, Kansas or New Jersey Kearns is going to find a prejudiced jury.

Unless Kearns can have his case decided strictly on its legal merits before a Federal judge, Dempsey will have the bulge. A jury trial is a cinch for Dempsey because of his popularity. Dempsey doesn't have to approach any juror and Rickard doesn't have to jockey "that sinister shadow" to produce this effect.

Prejudicing a jury is usually accomplished by criminal methods, but Dempsey accomplishes it purely by the charm of his manner and his startling popularity.

Both sides claim a victory in the Newark scrimmage and both of them are right to a certain extent.

Dempsey's side has proved what had already been acknowledged—that a jury would be sympathetic to him.

Kearns claims a moral victory in that he got out of a spot in which he was holding the wrong seat stub.

Boxing has neither been harmed nor benefited by the trial so far.

If the case is decided on its merits and attorneys are restrained from melodramatic accusations which have no foundation in fact, the reformers are going to be disagreeably surprised that boxing can carry its differences into a Federal court like any reputable business.

The issue at stake is the validity of a contract.

The contract which Kearns holds with Dempsey is either valid or invalid. If it is valid, he will collect all or part of $333,333; if it is invalid, Kearns won't get a dime.

Boxing, when it was in the Horton law incubator, dredged the courts because the involved legal phrases, bewildered the tin ears of that period.

Since boxing has become established, and since boxing has earned sufficient dough to hire lawyers capable of translating legal phrases into the jargon of Broadway, courts no longer hold the same fear.

Boxing, in fact, after following the Tea Pot Dome scandal, and other scandals of high public life, has about reached the conclusion that the game is lily white compared to some other branches of endeavor.

Hi-Y Wins From Trojan Quintet

The Richmond Hi-Y basketball club of the boys' league last night defeated the Trojans by a score of 39 to 22 in a hard fought contest at the Roosevelt Junior High school gym.

San Pablo Team Beats Carmen

By defeating the Richmond Carmen Sunday, the San Pablo Garagemen team stepped into second place in the winter league. The score was 7 to 4.

After the third inning, the Garagemen stepped out of a possible defeat and in spite of alleged one-sided umpiring, won the game from their rivals, Emmett Daley and F. "Hans" Wagner. Andrade started the ball going that resulted in four runs for the Garagemen. It was Daley that annexed two doubles and a single. Georgy at first and Banquet showed up to big advantage during the game.

Walter Murphy on the mound for the Garagemen held the carmen to a four-hit game. Nemith pitched a good brand of ball for the carmen.

Fullback—Joesting (Minnesota).

By WARREN BROWN

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—It is particularly distressing to have to skimpish about the precincts controlled by Major John L. Griffith, for the purpose of locating a big eleven, in an organization that has never claimed to be more, or have more than a big ten. However, the search has been completed, and eleven players who have appeared most to this individual reporter of football warfare, are set forth.

As a team, this aggregation should be able to function in the approved fashion.

Its line, containing Oosterbaan, Baer, Hansen, Kaskowski, and Rouse, all of the quality which can be called All-American, would receive the necessary co-operation from Fisher, and Nowack, on offense, defense, and the required amount of thinking.

The backfield, with Gilbert to pass and kick, Joesting to smash and pass, and run interference, Amquist to romp hither and yon, and Timm to go likewise, should be able to pile up enough scoring to satisfy even the down town.

coaches.

In putting this team on paper practically all of the conference players of any consequence have been giving some consideration.

This, it seems, completes the survey of the conference who's who, for the season of 1927.

In submitting the team, as is, I make but one reservation and that is, if it does not suit I be privileged to take a trip down to Urbana, where I am confident, I can find one that will.

CLOTHIERS AND STRINGERS WIN IN CITY LEAGUE

Despite the fact that they played for six minutes of the final quarter with only four men, the McRacken Clothiers last night defeated the Santa Fe Tie Walkers by a score of 25 to 20 at the Junior high school gym. Two players on the Clothier squad were taken out of the game because of four personal fouls each and all of the rest of the subs had already been in the game. The game went on with four men.

The Stringer Smoke Shop squad facing a valiantly fighting La Moine drug team were victorious in the second game of the evening. The final score: Stringers, 35, LaMoine, 22.

Dan Howley and Ray Schuck, the Polo Grounds then at any used to lament bitterly during the last baseball season because the eight field bleachers at the Yankee Stadium were so inviting a target for the large Master Ruth, Lou Gehrig and the rest of the home run wallowing Yankees.

No wonder they can win a pennant by the Fourth of July, was their wail, "when they have a short right field fence made to order for Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri and their other right field hitters."

Those rival managers always were trying to explain the unprecedented bombardment of the Yankees, and the so-called "short" right field fence at the stadium which was their favorite object upon which to fasten the explanation. Still, there is no real foundation in fact for their plaintive accusations.

Ruth always disliked the stadium as a park to hit in. Like the thorough ballplayer that he is, he is full of the ballplayer's superstitions, and coming in from the road trips he would always mourn the time to be spent hitting them over the Stadium greenward.

He liked Fenway Park at Boston and Navin Field, Detroit, and the remodeled White Sox Park in Chicago is now one of his favorite socking grounds. Last season he hit one of his longest home runs over the double decked right field stands in Chicago, a wallop that traveled at least 100 feet. During a double-header in Boston he hit three home runs, one into the right field bleachers, one of the most distant in either major league; one over the left field fence and one over the center field fence, the longest clout ever registered at Fenway Park.

Ruth always hit more home runs away from the stadium than he did at home, and it was usual, when the Babe spouted around of Gehrig during the road trips last season, to predict that Lou would catch up with him again when they got back to the Bronx. His final spurt, which saw him setting a new home run record, was more unusual because he did it at the stadium.

When Ruth set his record of fifty-nine homers in 1921 he had the unusually helpful right field stands at the Polo Grounds to aid him. Last season's figure showed that more home runs were hit at

Saving on small wages

Will power as much as earning ability is a factor in the universal ambition to win financial success. Some men are unable to save on ten thousand a year, and yet other men with far smaller incomes manage to save substantially. Little sacrifices may be necessary, but the financial peace of mind that comes from having followed a systematic savings plan is worth the effort. Savings accounts in the American Trust Company earn four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

WAR CLOUDS IN BALKAN STATES MENACE PEACE

By ROBERT J. PREW
(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Nov. 28.—With the vanguard delegations to the preparatory disarmament conference, which opens at Geneva Wednesday, arriving in state at the peace city, war clouds on the eastern horizon of Europe grow darker, and threaten to again deluge numerous countries with blood.

The seriousness of the situation which confronts European nations from the Balkans to the Caucasus is shown by an outline of problems now distracting European foreign offices.

1.—Riga dispatches indicate that the threatened war between Poland and Lithuania has been only temporarily averted through the decision late yesterday, after long conference by Polish leaders including Pilsudski, not to take drastic steps against Lithuania until the League of Nations meets.

2.—Poland's action is believed to have been influenced by threatening note from the Soviet government that Russia would not tolerate Poland's new attempt to dominate Lithuania.

3.—Unrest and revolt in the Ukraine and Crimea, denied by the Soviet Government from Moscow, are declared in dispatches from several sources to have already resulted in hundreds of deaths. Trotsky followers are credited with these uprisings against the Stalin majority rule in the Communist Party.

4.—Yugoslavia, still further incensed by the new Italian-Albanian treaty, signed at Tirana this week, is showing ugly fangs and causing worry to the chancelleries of England, France, and Germany. Under the new treaty Italy assumed the big brother role in Albania while France, with the knowledge of other foreign offices, lately signed a treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia.

5.—Bulgarian students, alleging mistreatment of Bulgarians by Roumania in Dobruja, are preparing to stage a widespread anti-Roumanian demonstration.

6.—With mourning Roumanians striding by the hier of the dead "iron man," Premier Jan Bratianu the pro-tem government headed by Bratianu's brother, is throwing every military precaution up on all sides to keep peace at home, prevent border riots, invasions of communist agitators and quarrel some Bulgarians offering reprisals for real or fancied abuses.

7.—Roumania is reported to be redoubling all border guards to forestall any possible attempt at a coup by the Soviet to seize Bessarabia, once a part of Russia, but sliced off by the peace treaty redistribution in Europe.

Two New Homes To Be Erected Here

Permits for the construction of two cottages were issued yesterday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley.

F. Grunewald was granted a permit to erect a one-story cottage and garage on the west side of Napa street near Huntington avenue. The cost is $950.

E. E. Eakin secured a permit to build a one-story cottage and garage on the west side of Downer avenue, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth streets at a cost of $2000.

Mrs. Nellie K. Francis of Richmond and John L. Lemmer of 1267 Ellis street, San Francisco, obtained a marriage license application in San Francisco last week.

Rescues Princess

HER TITLE ANTEDATES THE CZAR'S, but American immigration authorities, held Princess Alexandra Galitzine until her cousin, Prince Paul Chavchavadze, posted $500 bond that she would return to her father's home after six months' visit to mother in Chicago. The princess, who is a cousin of Princess Xenia of Russia (Mrs. William B. Leeds), arrived on Ryndam. Photo shows her and cousin Paul as they left Ellis Island ferry.

World Unrest Brewing; New War To Explode Under Capitalism Of Old World

MOSCOW, Nov. 23.—"The international revolution lives! Unrest is brewing throughout the world. Another war will explode the gunpowder cellars of European capitalism and put workers and peasants in control of more than a dozen nations!"

Nikolai Bukharin, right hand man of Joseph Stalin, and regarded by many as the "policy brains" behind the Soviet government, uttered these prophetic words to a mass meeting of trade unionists where he felt free to speak his mind.

Touching on the settlement of war debts and the possibility of indemnifying foreign business firms for their property in Russia which was nationalized by the Soviets, M. Bukharin said:

"Some people say we cannot pay. It is nonsense! We never entertained that idea. We say that we can and will pay our debts if paying is profitable for us."

SECRETS OF DEMOCRACY
"To announce in advance how much we are willing to pay would be folly. The workers and peasants in our country have a right to know what is going on, but there are some secrets which even democracy forbids being told. Supposing I should say, 'Comrades, we have so and so many guns. Our plan of defense in case of war is so and so. I would be hailed as a great democrat. But I'd be a dizzy fool.'"

"We are ready to discuss debt payments with all our creditors as we have with France. There may be some doubts as to the validity of some claims, but we are at all times open to talk about the proposition with a sincere desire of reaching an agreement."

M. Bukharin is the keenest socialist theorist in Russia if not in the world. By family and education he is a "bourgeois," who has turned all his natural and acquired advantages towards building up the Soviet state. Stalin is the practical political genius who directs the party machine at home. Bukharin is the master of program and principle here and abroad. And he believes, that the party's decision not to abandon hope and struggle for world revolution has been vindicated. Pointing to the Vienna riots, the Chinese nationalist movement, the British general strike last year, and a dozen other flareups of unrest, he insisted that the spirit of revolution marches on.

"It can't come all at once in a day," he said. "Proletarian revolution is a historical process. It took two centuries for the completion of industrial revolutions which established capitalism. The workers' revolution will be accomplished in an incomparatively shorter time."

CRISIS AT HAND
The crisis of world capitalism is near at hand. The very existence of the Soviet government stimulates revolt. We are the living embodiment of all that the oppressed masses of the world are striving for. A war will hasten the death of numerous capitalist governments. The Soviet nation in need will stir millions of our friends in other lands to action. And when there are more socialistic states we can change our foreign trade policy.

The government monopoly of foreign trade is a barrier between us and our capitalist enemies. The United States and many other countries have erected tariff barriers to protect themselves. We have established a monopoly of trade. To those who accuse us of national seclusion I answer, 'Excuse us, we suffer' in this case from 'international inclusiveness' which obliges us not to let the international bourgeoisie come too near our pie so that they could eat it, or at least take a big bite.'

"We have a proletarian state which is thriving and growing strong on the small heritage of the Czar's regime. We must guard our economic independence jealously. If, for instance, there would be a socialist revolution in the United States, we could abandon our monopoly of foreign trade. Nobody would dare eat us then. But as things are at present we must and shall exploit for our own advantage all the disputes between capitalist nations. Our relations with other powers must be guided solely by our economic needs and our desire to have peace and be left alone to build up a strong socialist state."

LEAVE FOR L. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carroll of Decker Lake, British Columbia, and Miss Marie Simoneau of Seattle, left yesterday morning for Los Angeles, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orchard of Sixth street. The party will spend the winter in Los Angeles.

LIBRARY PUTS NEW BOOKS IN CIRCULATION

WHAT CAN A MAN BELIEVE?—Barton.

Another Bruce Barton book. Mr. Barton discusses three questions: should religion be abolished? Has the church done more harm than good? Which is the best religion? and then states, as he puts it, "what few simple things a man can believe." Mr. Barton may be said to occupy a middle ground between the Fundamentalists and the Agnostics.

SPANISH IRONWORK—Byne. This book, which is a gift to the library from the Hispanic Society of America, contains many illustrations of decorative ironwork and will be helpful to those who are interested in the Spanish type of architecture.

TOMBSTONE—Burns. The romantic story of Tombstone, Arizona. Mr. Burns, who is the author of "The Saga of Billy the Kid," knows his Arizona and writes entertainingly. Here we have the raw material of the "Wild West" stories.

FOUNDATIONS OF SOCIAL LIFE—Fairchild.

Dr. Fairchild believes that there are "certain fundamental facts about man, society and the world, and the relations of each to the other," which must be established before more detailed matters may be scientifically considered. He traces the course of man from his primitive beginnings to his present position as master of the animal world; he discusses heredity and human environment and shows where man is today as the result of these influences. Dr. Fairchild writes lucidly and gives the reader an interesting insight into what social effort can do and what it cannot do.

A GRIFFIN IN CHINA—Wimsatt.

There are no political discussions in this book which is an account of the everyday life in China and is written for those who expect to travel in the great republic and for those who have a normal everyday interest in things

Green Style For Men In Vogue

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Fashions in food are contemporaries in the fashions for men. There exists a tendency to match the nourishment on the table with the clothes on the back.

Greens in apparel and greens on the table. The mania for holding down the avoirdupois by eating vegetables only has been reflected in a wave of greens in the styles for men. Green hats are appearing on many well-groomed heads and from soda fountain counter to fashionable restaurants, men and women are clamoring for greens. Restaurant owners are seeking new names for old favorites and the apparel forces are annoying chemical reports and their contents in their efforts to discover new shades more acceptable to the men. Green shirts are frequently displayed in one window and green hats in another.

Said a Fifth Avenue hatter a few days back: "Green felt hats in the Hamburg shape have been a surprise this season. We never thought we could do much with green until we tried but the men are leaning to favor the color liberally. Green hosiery has appeared to match green hats and green shirts, although the colors in the hosiery are usually mixed with some other contrasting shade or shades. The mild success of the green shirt is generally conceded but the popularity of green hats and green socks represents a sharp new note in dress for men."

CHINESE. THE CHINESE BOOK—Ripley. A book for Californians who see so many Chinese rugs and wonder about how they are made and what their symbolical designs mean. Tell how the rugs may be quickly classed, according to design and according to color.

"Companionate Marriage" Is Explained By Judge Lindsey

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Just what "companionate marriage" really is was explained today by the man who exploited it—Judge Ben Lindsey.

In the first place it is simply the old fashioned institution of marriage brought up to date, only sanctioning practices now clandestinely carried on, he said. "The two practices which primarily make most marriages by ministers, companionate marriages are birth control and divorce by mutual consent," said the former Denver jurist.

"I challenge any clergyman to deny in debate or otherwise that most modern intelligent couples married by them practice birth control. And at least 75 per cent of those couples who are divorced get that divorce by mutual consent. Virtually 90 per cent of the divorces of church married couples are by mutual consent."

"The term 'companionate' has an interesting derivation. In the animal world there is no mating except for one purpose, procreation. In other words, the 'companionate' relationship has no existence."

"Only among humans is a relationship for social companionship and proper spiritual and physical satisfaction possible."

"Let us recognize this fact."

relations, instead of the hypocritical attitude of our churches. The latter merely encourage 'bootlegging' in love. Marriage and divorce by making illegal what is generally practiced.

"The infamous Anthony Comstock law, which makes birth control a crime, should be repealed. So should state laws modeled after it."

"Scientific birth control clinics should be established in every city. Present divorce courts should be abolished, and boards of scientists and specialists set up in their place."

"Every couple contemplating divorce should come before such a Companionate marriage is a plea for common honesty in domestic board in an effort of reconciliation. Then if this fails they should have a divorce without expense. If there are any children their rights should be protected by the law."

"The whole plan of companionate marriage is to stabilize the home instead of permitting its breakdown to continue. At present only one-third of our marriageable youth are married. This is an unhealthy condition. It can be reduced only by frankly liberalizing marriage and legalizing and directing birth control and divorce by consent."

Snake Skins Popular For Fashion Novelties In Fall

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Everything that hisses has a market value these days, with the possible exception of the "gummy god" who expresses his disapproval through his teeth.

Not since the serpent camped Adam in the fashionable suburb known as Eden has the despised snake been as popular as at the present moment. Following the lead of the women who have been using snake skin for purses and shoes the men now flaunt tobacco pouches, cigarette cases, bill folds, cigar holders, etc., made from various reptile skins. Among the novelties noted by Universal on Fifth avenue, recently was a traveling case in snake skin, containing necessary for the comfort of the particular man. There is also a vogue for snake skin handled walking sticks, viper-covered cigarette lighters and minor articles such as match and cigarette cases.

"It has always seemed funny to me that people who detest snakes are making a tremendous vogue of snake skin-covered accessories," exclaimed the manager of Fifth avenue department for men. "Women who go into convulsions at the mere sight of a garter snake will pay any price for rare skins. The more poisonous and rare the snake is the better price his pack- et brings when converted into some article people can carry or wear. I recently secured some genuine cobra skin and the price was so high that I did not think anybody would take it off my hands, but there was no hesitancy on the part of the women in writing their dainty checks when they heard who and what had inhabited the skin. Men who blanch and shudder the suggestion of contact with snakes, are almost as bad as the women in their zeal to pick up rare hides. Possibly folks think that the only good snake is a dead snake and by supporting the fad they may hope to eliminate the tribes that travel on their stomachs."

LOCAL CONCERN SEEKS ACTION IN TEST CASE

OAKLAND, Nov. 28.— Legal forces were today arraying for a "war to the finish" on Oakland's garbage ordinance as a result of the arrest of two agents of competing companies on complaint of E. P. Mayer of the Contra Costa Hog Co., Inc., of Richmond who holds a contract giving him the sole right to collect refuse in the city.

The legal battle will be opened Wednesday in the court of Police Judge E. J. Tyrrell when Evangelista Sala, driver for the Russell City Hog Ranch Company, and Joe Landina, owner of a San Lorenzo hog ranch, appear for trial on a charge of violating ordinance 3981. The ordinance gives to Mayer and the Contra Costa Hog Company the sole right to collect refuse in the city of Oakland.

LEGAL BATTLE DUE

It is expected that the legal battle will revive a political struggle between the present City Council majority, headed by Mayor John L. Davies, Commissioners C. C. Young and W. H. Parker, and the council minority, composed of Commissioners E. K. Sturges and Frank Colbourn, which preceded the council's enactment of the ordinance.

C. W. White, attorney for Landina and city attorney of Hayward, will confront City Attorney Preston Higgins of Oakland in the case.

White announced today that he will attack the constitutionality of the garbage ordinance either by means of a writ of habeas corpus or through a case in equity. He is now searching records, he said, to determine what action appears the most advisable. White will co-operate in trial of the cases with John Wentz of San Leandro, attorney for Sala.

IS TEST CASE

Sala was arrested by Patrolman Dan Fleming on Thursday at Eighth and Broadway after he is alleged to have collected 100 pounds of refuse from a restaurant. Landina was arrested by Patrolman George Driscoll on Friday after he is alleged to have collected refuse at 1218 Broadway.

Mayer appeared at the Oakland city hall in the court of Police Judge Tyrrell, at which time Wednesday was set for the date on which Sala and Landina will plea. Both arrested men are at liberty under bail.

The action of Mayer, it is believed, has inaugurated an open warfare between rival hog companies with arrest of alleged violators of the ordinance until the legality of the measure has been finally determined.

ORATORY LIMITED

Oratory in the Spanish parliament is being severely regulated. Speakers hereafter will be limited to 45 minutes on any given subject, divided into two periods of 30 and 15 minutes respectively.

This action is taken by vote of the Assembly but doubtless the dictator, Gen. Primo de Rivera, has something to do with it. Soldiers and dictators are notoriously stingy about letting orators orate.

In the Italian parliament, from present indications, pretty soon the allotted time of speakers will be nothing at all. The members will perform their entire duty merely by voting—and Mussolini will tell them how to vote.

The United States Senate, however, will continue orating as usual. And really despite all the criticism heaped upon the heads of our marathon senators, there's some virtue in their long-windedness after all. Whatever else the Senate may be, it's a forum of free speech; and where speech is free, there is little danger of tyranny.

RESEARCH

The importance of industrial research to the industries concerned is shown by the fact that $200,000,000 a year is now spent in such work in this country. It is mostly a matter of private enterprise. One thousand corporations maintain their own research departments.

The value of the work is indicated by the Nation Industrial Conference Board's statement that the industries spending the most on research five years ago are those which have made the greatest growth since then.

It is impossible to place any limit on the discoveries which are bound to come from all this research. The scientific and material progress made in the past 25 years should prove to be the merest beginning when compared with the advancement which may logically be expected from the next 25 years. In the end all this research results in benefits for the whole public.

Now that Big Bill Thompson is so successfully taking care of the British lion, there is perhaps no need for us nationally joining in on this program.

The time of year approaches when the family will go out and buy father a wonderful present, letting him pay the other 11 installments.

We can see the day coming when the women who want to cast off conventional trammels and do something daring and novel will tackle housekeeping.

The wild horses of the western plains are being turned into dog biscuit and chicken food, and for the third and last time, the Frontier vanishes.

How To Earn Money!

When my friends write to me as I hope all of my readers will, I find that many of them have very different plans and problems. They are all fascinating and I try to imagine the people as I answer, wondering if they will like what I suggest or if they have a secret longing or talent for something quite different that they have not told me about. There are times when the letters simply ask me what to do and I cannot tell what the writers can do or what to do. So when you write, tell me there is any kind of work that you are especially interested in; if that is the work you can do best; if you want to learn about it; any fact that will help me in advising you. Then we can plan for the future as well as the present.

As the business I am in is not paying, I would like to start something else and I thought that perhaps an employment agency would be good. Do you know if there is any money in that business and where I could go to learn how to run such an agency? I am past 50 years of age and alone.

M. E. S., Brooklyn.
I think you ought to have some experience in personnel work before you start an employment agency of your own. It would depend on your own talent for the work, just how profitable it would be for you, but many people do very well with it indeed. For an employment agency you ought to be a fairly good judge of character, as an older woman usually is, and you ought to be interested in people in bringing out the best that they have. I would apply to any employment agency for that kind of work, because that will give you definite practical experience and you can be earning at the same time.

I have a small awning and shade business which starts around October 1, and does not start up again until around April, each year. I have a good sized shop and two electric manufacturing machines. My expenses go on just the same in the winter. Do you know or can you suggest any way we could use this shop during the winter months?

T. F. J., Ossining.
I think the best thing you can do is to make draperies, cover cushions or make slip-covers for furniture. I noticed on your letter-head that you are decorators for balls and conventions. If you prefer to concentrate on the decorating that you have been doing I would advise you to start an immediate campaign in all the balls and conventions in the city. You might change the kind of a shop you have during the winter. Change it into a hardware shop for example, and in that way you should at least pay expenses. The practicality of this idea depends on your location, capital, etc., but I think it is wise to develop a side line in your business if you can.

building through physical culture will receive the personal attention of Lady Grey, beauty culturist, and should be signed by the writer's full name and address, which will not be used without permission. Address her, care of this newspaper.

DO NOT HIBERNATE

Indoor living is responsible for many of the diseases which exist today. Unlike animals, man cannot hibernate. Now that the winter is just around the corner, it is advisable to have plenty of fresh air in our homes and to take a certain amount of exercise in the open each day and to avoid overheated rooms. In places where people are moving about the temperature should not be above 65 degrees. In offices and dwelling places it should never rise higher than 68 degrees. People should wear warm, but loose and porous clothing in winter as well as in summer.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

Yours for more decency, better morals, more faith, tolerance, consideration, less sensuality and hostility, and more respect for the sanctity of the home and marriage!

That is the note on which a letter from a MAN ends in which he asks my opinion of the movement on foot to "legitimize love babies."

Well, frankly, unless it is a personal problem, it is a hard thing to give an opinion in a column because there are so many ramifications that we'd need a page instead of the meager space allotted for our discussions. The whole question, of course, has been stirred up by the publication of Nan Britton's book (I almost said recent, but it is her only one, isn't it?)

Do you suppose the women who are behind this movement are trying to protect themselves and other women so that they may indulge in their emotional naivetes as promiscuously and with as utter abandon as men ever did?

When the time comes that they can so do and still retain the respect of the community—well, our state of deterioration as rapidly as ever Rome did! As long as the world lasts, WOMEN will carry the torch in morals! Double standards of morals have been relegated to the discard by many, but the big majority of women still and always will cling to the old, old regime and—bless us—we're supposed to!

There's no doubt that many of my readers will disagree. Tell me whether you do or not and call me old-fashioned if you want to. Dear Patricia Lee— I am a daily reader of your column and read all your answers on the problems of marriage. I want to say that you have some job! My wife passed away seven years ago, and I have no troubles, as I am unmarried, I'm afraid to try it again for fear I would not be as happy—V. B. W.

Well the idea, V. B. W., of your being afraid to try it again! I'll bet you are thinking about doing that very thing, so why won't you write me and tell me what it is you really fear?

Dear Patricia Lee— You said that you wanted unmarried folk to write to you, so here's my story: I am Jewish and am keeping company with a Catholic fellow, and I love him very much. He says he will never give me up and I know I can't imagine ever giving him up. First of all, I must admit, although I am ashamed to be making a mistake, but I am not a bad girl. I want to marry him, but am afraid we might not be happy, simply because he is a Christian. He is wonderful and ambitious and always planning for the future—H. S.

Yours is the age-old problem. Love will conquer everything, is really my motto, but, oh, my dear be sure that it is true love. If you and your friend have faced the things squarely and talked the matter over carefully, then it seems to me that deep in your hearts you have already decided without my advice.

VIGOROUS HEALTH

THE BREATH OF LIFE—We live in a sea of air even as the fish live in a sea of water. Unfortunately most of us, like the poor fish, do not appreciate the medium in which we live because we cannot see it. We think it is unimportant, until some one tries to choke us. We are inclined to take the air for granted and never to take the trouble to inquire as to its purity. The air in these days is just as likely to be contaminated as bootleg liquor. We all notice whether the air is warm or cold, moist or dry, still or blowing, but to stop to think which is the best for them.

Since air is the breath of life and we cannot live without it, except for a few minutes, and then only because we have some on hand, it behooves us to know what kind of air we are breathing. A constant supply of fresh air is especially essential to good health.

Unfortunately, it is often difficult to secure good air, especially in the city. Even in the country there is wood smoke, tobacco smoke, coal gas and automobile exhausts. The only thing we can do is to make a special effort to secure an ample supply of the purest available air both day and night. Stay outdoors as much as possible and ventilate your homes and offices freely.

Finally, remember that air inside us is more important than outside us, so take pains to breathe it in deeply and regularly.

Would it be all right to have my teeth filed straight? Will the enamel come off my teeth if I have them cleaned by a dentist? I have little lines running up and down in back of my knees. What are these from? MRS. L. R.

It is better not to file the teeth, but if only a little filing is required it is possible that it could be done without injury. A competent dentist can clean your teeth without injury. The lines behind your knees may be natural creases in the skin, due to excess weight or white lines due to shrinking of the skin after reduction in weight. A personal examination would be necessary for exact diagnosis.

GOOD MANNERS

Q. Is it proper for a woman to stop and converse with women friends on the street?

A. It is quite all right to stop for a few moments, provided you don't interrupt the progress of other people. Draw aside for your chat and let the rest of the world go by.

Q. Is it not thoughtless for a man to expect a lady to stop and talk with him on the street?

A. Instead of stopping her he should turn and accompany her a little way down the street, or at least until he has finished his chat with her.

Q. When one is a friend of the groom and has never met the bride, to whom should the wedding gift be addressed or sent?

A. The conventional rule is that all gifts should be sent to the bride.

MOIRE RETURNS TO FAVOR: TAFETTA, TOO

The crisp silks are claiming much attention for evening wear. Moire is an old-time silk returned to favor and taffeta is quite the rage. Both fabrics lend themselves admirably to the new silhouette.

A pretty frock of shell pink taffeta, quaintly reminiscent of bygone days, has a closely fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt which dips decidedly at the back. But the finishing touch comes in the form of sheer pantalettes of exquisite lace, which emerge very frankly from beneath the skirt hem.

The moire frock is somewhat more formal in line than its taffeta sister. As a rule, it is very slim and sleek until it passes the hips, whence it flares in the form of a circular flounce in pointed effect at the back and caught at the waistline in front in draped effect.

SYNOPSIS
Buckwell, Frisco politician, seeks to secure valuable Vasquez ancestral ranch. His lawyer's nephew, Terry, loves Dolores Vasquez and exposes Buckwell's peridy. Vasquez drops dead when Buckwell threatens eviction. Dolores and Terry escape Buckwell as Chinaman to avenge Vasquez. Buckwell kidnaps them and in revenge threatens Terry's life unless Dolores clears his name. She lies for Terry's sake and saves his life but later she refuses the lie and forces Buckwell to flee into the underworld. Buckwell captures Dolores and holds her prisoner in an infamous den where he plans to sell her into white slavery.

The feast of desire went on. Suddenly the floor moved—rocked. The walls shook. The heavy chandelier began to sway perilously. The men eyed each other in fearful consternation. They were paralyzed with fear. The swaying chandelier swung in a wider arc and with a fearful rattling, sending tearing sound broke from the ceiling and crashed down—down upon the pallid terror-stricken face of Chris Buckwell.

There was an awed hush of envy and admiration. The defeated bidders glared angrily.

"In cash!" queried Buckwell, beaming triumphantly. The winner nodded complacently, then summoning the manager gave him instructions in an undertone.

The manager crossed the room and, throwing aside a heavy curtain, revealed a magnificent silk, exposing to view the heavy steel door of an enormous vault which he proceeded to open. It disclosed a scene beyond the wildest stretch of the imagination. The massive doors swung back and several attendants lined up and stood guard over the precious contents. The manager went inside and proceeded once had risen noble buildings, nothing was left but frail walls, tottering chimneys, heaps of twisted iron, piles of brick and mortar. And over it all the red tongues of fire licked their way up a fury that would not be denied.

Far down under the depths of the city in the Den of a Thousand Sins, surrounded by all the wild splendor of Oriental luxury, in the presence of the most he has persecuted, and before the eyes of the beautiful girl he had sought to sell into slavery Chris Buckwell met his death. The prophecy of Old Testament prophecy had been fulfilled, "You are destined to perish and decay, and this underworld of which thou art king—it, too, shall perish with thee."

Dolores watched in horrified awe at the still form of Buckwell when it lay crushed beneath the heavy glass chandelier. She was stunned by the sudden crash but realized that a mightier hand than hers had snatched away the desired vengeance. The Chinaman across her, who only a few minutes before were outbidding each other in a mad desire to possess her at any price, were even more amazed than she. They stood in frightened groups muttering softly to each other. Then as the room swayed violently and the walls cracked, filling the air with dust, they fled terrified in all directions, trampling each other under foot in the mad scramble to reach the doors.

Pandemonium reigned on all sides. Dolores was hurled aside without a thought, as the denizens of this underground crib frantically gathered up the valued possessions and rushed away to seek safety above ground.

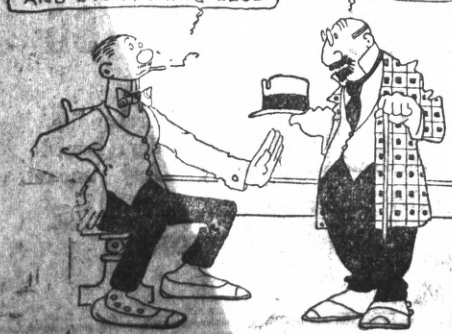

There was something more terrifying about this disaster, in the dark labyrinth of San Francisco's underground den that was her greater than the panic on the streets above. It was the fear of the unknown mingled with the terror of the unseen.

Dolores crawled painfully to her knees, from where she had been hurled by the terrified Chinamen. The dull gleam of a lamp, that through some miracle had continued to burn, cast flickering shadows that danced grotesquely across the littered floor. The once gorgeous banquet hall of the pleasure-loving Chinamen was a shambles. Silken draperies had been torn from the walls and trampled under foot, tables were overturned, chairs were broken. Here and there still forms, pinned beneath fallen beams, lay sprawled like huge gorgeous butterflies. Other Chinamen besides Buckwell had gone to meet their ancestors.

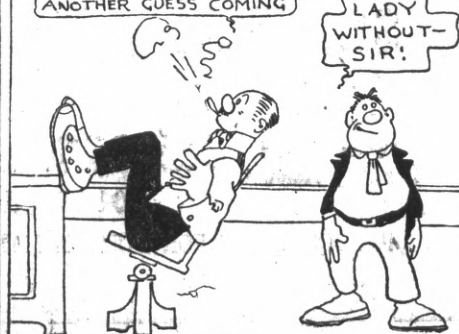

What had happened Dolores did not know. She had prayed for deliverance and wondered if this was the only answer God could give to her praying. Some catastrophe had wrought a havoc that her bewildered brain could not grasp. Dazedly she arose to her feet and groped blindly across the room where the dim rays of the lamp faintly outlined a wide open door. It was a violent effort but more than her tired body could manage. The shock of the last few hours had been too much for her tortured nerves, and with a sob of anguish she slipped to her knees. The thought of Terry roused her for a moment and she wondered if he had been able to escape. With renewed energy she struggled forward. "Dear God, give me strength," she prayed, "give me strength to find him."

California Lad Held To Be Infant Violin Virtuoso

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—An astounding rumor had been buzzing about town for several days, from musical mouth to mouth. Almost incredible, it seemed. The report ran, that after hearing Yehudi Menuhin, the ten-year-old California lad, rehearse the Beethoven violin concerto recently, papa Elmano Heifetz had exclaimed hoarsely, in unison:

"He's better than my boy was at the same age."

This evening, in Carnegie hall, young Menuhin played the work at the concert of the New York symphony orchestra, with Fritz Busch conducting. Every solo violinist who was not drawing a bow professionally at that time managed to be on hand to verify or refute the cry of the two anguished Russian fathers.

In Anton Rubinstein's day precocious musical talent used to run to infant phenomenon performance on the keyboard, which led that shock-haired genius to utter his cynical dictum.

"Piano playing no longer is an art."

The twentieth century child prodigies favor the violin and well may the venerable Leopold Auer, arch-sower of the youthful fiddler crop look proudly guilty.

He, too, has expressed his wonderment over the little Menuhin. But the child's teacher was Louis Persinger, of San Francisco.

In the intervals between writing the foregoing paragraphs I have been casting about in my mind for adjectives appropriate to the performance of last evening. It was one mixed impression, chiefly highly favorable. To hear a medium-sized, healthy-looking youngster, attired in velvet knickerbockers and a middie blouse play the Beethoven concerto at all, well would have constituted a breathtaking feat; but Menuhin played it uncommonly well, one may say, uncannily well. While mental immaturity and musical hesitancy were apparent here-and there, the slight slips in intonation and technique might have been due to the profuse perspiration which beset the tiny virtuoso. Nevertheless, he exhibited sheer unshakable repose.

The tone of the boy is voluminous, steady and pure. His fingers are strong and agile. Double notes thrills and rapid passages he conquers with ease. His bow manipulates all positions with exactness and certainty. The right forearm seems of unusual length, a peculiarity also possessed by the late Joachim, whose Cadenza Menuhin played so brilliantly in the first movement that a few misguided persons burst into ill-judged applause just before the return to some of Beethoven's own most measures.

Whether this "infant prodigy" feels the true depth of the master's music or not is a question too subtle to determine off-hand. At times he appeared to be on his own; at others, to imitate Kreisler and Czigele. It is safe to say, however, that Menuhin's is a rare and precious talent, which calls for nurturing of the most careful and considerate kind.

He made an enormous hit with the large audience, and was recalled for almost twenty minutes.

His stage demeanor is simple and modest. Frequently he handed his violin to the concert master to be tuned.

I am told that, at the Mecca Temple rehearsal last week, Menuhin glanced out of the window and saw the figure of a golden cock surmounting a nearby building. "There's a nice Thanksgiving turkey," he said.

One of the auditors this evening was Leopold Lichtenberg, himself a violin prodigy over half a century ago, and later a pupil of the great Wieniawski.

Another noted violinist left Carnegie Hall after Menuhin finished and declared:

"Marvelous! But I'm not going to break my violin and throw it away."

German Ex-Champ Sues For Divorce

(By Universal Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—In contrast to amity and accord which reigns in the Jack Dempsey-Estelle Taylor partnership, Germany's ex-heavyweight champion Hans Breitstraeter is suing his slender wife Lisa for a divorce.

Hans, the blonde giant, blames all his troubles on his wife. He charges that Lisa's scolding and meddling with training camp rouline before every big match so upset his nerves that he was unable to fight. The discord in the Breitstraeter family went so far it is implied, that Hans went to pieces "professionally" and politely handed the championship over to Franz Diener last year, just because he Hans was so depressed and distracted by Lisa's inquisitive manner.

Champion Jail Bird Is Given Sentence Of 200 Years

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The world's champion holder of prison sentences, August Buchmann, who in various trials for theft had amassed the sum of 208 years in the penitentiary, has added three more years marked up to his credit, bringing the grand total to 211 years.

As is the custom with Germanor less an "honorary decree."

law, August, feared for several years as the most audacious robber that ever cleaned out a store while the clerks and customers looked on, was judged and found wanting on more than a score of offenses. Each offense carried its legitimate verdict of so-and-so many years in jail. One fine day August awoke to find himself the penitentiary term title holder.

Literally, however, August will have to serve about fifteen years, the extra 196 years being more

U. S. Marine In Peking Patrols By "Red" Flag

(By Universal Service)

PEKING, Nov. 28.—An American marine daily stands sentry duty directly under the red flag of Soviet Russia as it blatantly flutters its golden hammer and sickle to the breeze blowing over the western end of Legation street.

It is not without a startle that the American visitor to Peking under the Soviet flag which flies directly across the street from the American Legation. The visitor would have been still more astonished to see the marine standing by a brand red flag was pulled up.

On April sixth the Chinese police raided the western portion of the Soviet Embassy from which all Russians fled leaving a long stretch of the outer wall of the Legation quarter without foreign guards. Subsequently a detachment of United States marines were given the task of patrolling the Russian wall. The raid having taken place at noon the Russian flag was flying over the wall and when nightfall came there were no Russians left to haul it down. The American guard scrupulously deferred from touching the flag and there it flew day and night, the stiff winds of Peking gradually tearing it away until only one quarter remained. Finally an extra heavy gust of wind broke the halyards and down came the remnants of the Red banner. A marine picked it up and handed it to Colonel Holcomb who commands the American Legation guard.

Nothing more was thought of the matter until a very pompous official from the Russian Embassy arrived at the American Legation demanding the red flag, and insisting that the Russians be permitted to raise a new one over the Russian property except for the patrolling American troops as part of the common defense scheme for the Legation Quarter.

The next day a bright red flag was hauled up and now waves above the smiling American marine who relishes the joke of doing his duty under the notorious Soviet banner, knowing that nowhere else in the world is his position duplicated.

Cane Toters Try Out New Sticks

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The man who drops his cane in the theatre aisle during the big scene in the third act is a rather familiar nuisance in New York. He is first cousin to the individual who sticks his walking stick out in the subway trains, thereby adding to the extreme weariness of the exhausted business man and the more or less tired secretary of the brunette preferred type.

But men are rapidly learning to conquer their canes and if practice makes perfect the rough moments in the life of the embryonic cane-toter may be rubbed out in time. Men are taking up many new styles in canes and during the evenings the hat check girls in the New York restaurants find that they collect an interesting assortment of staffs. The straight style continues to represent the last work in canes, although such equipment is extremely difficult to control.

One of the latest things in a straight malacca stick features a silver mounted briar handle. Shark skin is being used quite a bit on the carved handle cane and briar and bakelite have been attractively combined in some of the carved handle malaccas. One of the extreme styles of the moment is a malacca with a large carved ivory ball for a handle. This is strictly a Broadway interpretation of the cane fad.

In purchasing canes some thought should be given to the length of the shaft. As in the better grade of umbrellas, canes are now being offered with some consideration for the ultimate carrier. There are long shafts for tall men and short shafts for the man under 6 feet. It is always the best to stipulate a walking stick that seems in harmony with the physical dimensions of the owners. Otherwise the spectacle provided is awkward and the little additional art to be given to the well garbed man's outfit is bartered.
